

THE CATHEDRAL OF ST. EUGENE

Saint Eugene's Cathedral Parish, under the leadership of the Bishop of Santa Rosa, is a community of people united through faith, worship, and service. As disciples, we are empowered through grace to proclaim and explore God's word, to celebrate the mysteries of His redemptive action in history, to honor the traditions of the Catholic Church, to foster personal spiritual growth, and to promote fellowship within and beyond our parish. As members of civil society, we are instruments of peace, justice, reconciliation, and service to others.

We are thrilled to share the wonderful news that Saint Eugene Cathedral School will be expanding our educational offerings by introducing a Transitional Kindergarten (TK) classroom in the fall of 2024. This significant addition ensures our alignment with local public-school standards, offering an enriching TK program for 4-year-olds.

For more detailed information or if you have any questions, please do not hesitate to reach out to the school office. We are here to assist you and look forward to embarking on this new chapter together, enriching the lives of our students with the best possible start in their educational journey. Second Sunday of Easter - From the Pastor

This day has many different titles and I'll say a little something about each one. It is the Second Sunday of the Easter season which lets us know when we are in the season and it's the conclusion of the octave of Easter. This day is also called Doubting Thomas Sunday because of the Gospel reading read on this day. We see that Thomas has faith, otherwise he wouldn't be with the other disciples at all, yet we also see that his faith needs some help. All of us need help from God to believe more like Mark 9:14-29. We can believe and doubt at the same time and Jesus can help us to move along towards a more complete and perfect faith. This day is also called Quasimodo Sunday because that is the first word of the opening antiphon in Latin. The word literally means "half-made" which explains why Victor Hugo named his character Quasimodo, because it was as if he was half-made as a man. However, in the opening antiphon of the Mass, it is meant to be a reference to us being newly made in Christ. Thus, it is now translated "like newborn infants." Lastly, today is also Divine Mercy Sunday which is a new devotion from the twentieth century based on the private revelations given to St. Faustina. We celebrate God's great mercy and forgiveness which we need to be saved. We rejoice, yet again in the Lord.

Your pastor,
Fr. Samuel Moses Brown

Low Sunday

Before this new Feast came into being, the second Sunday after Easter had been known as Low Sunday. As the Catholic Encyclopedia explains, "the origin of the name (Low Sunday) is uncertain, but it is apparently intended to indicate the contrast between it and the great Easter festival immediately preceding, and also, perhaps, to signify that, being the Octave Day of Easter, it was considered part of that feast, though in a lower degree. Low Sunday has two names assigned to it in the Liturgy: Quasimodo, from the first word of the Introit; and Sunday in albis, because on this day the neophytes assisted at the Church services attired in their ordinary dress. In the Middle Ages it was called Close-Pasch, no doubt in allusion to its being the last day of the Easter Octave. Such is the solemnity of this Sunday that not only is it of Greater Double rite, but no feast, however great, can ever be kept upon it." Taken from Dom Gueranger's "The Liturgical Year"
